

Always Be Ready
Cornerstone Christian Fellowship
November 23, 2014

I Peter 3:15 But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts, and always be ready to give a defense to everyone who asks you a reason for the hope that is in you, with meekness and fear...

In both of his epistles, Peter was writing to the "dispersion" that group of early Christians made up mostly of Jews who had become disciples of Christ, and who had fled to outlying areas of Jerusalem due to the widespread persecution of the Jews. Peter was writing this first letter to them in order to encourage them to stand steadfast in their faith in the midst of the persecution, as they awaited the reception of their promised inheritance in the heavens. And throughout this letter, over and over again Peter encouraged them, exhorted them, commanded them, and reminded them of exactly where their focus should be in the midst of any trial or persecution that was sure to come their way. I Peter 1:3 Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who according to His abundant mercy has begotten us again to a living hope through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, 4 to an inheritance incorruptible and undefiled and that does not fade away, reserved in heaven for you...

Herein, they were to sanctify the Lord in their hearts. They were to set Him apart, placing Him above anything and everything else in their lives. Their focus above all was to be on the coming kingdom of our Lord Jesus Christ, and their heavenly inheritance as a co-heir with Him. They were to set their minds on heavenly things, not on things of the earth (Col 3:2); they were to store up for themselves treasures in heaven (Mt. 6:20); they were to seek first the kingdom of God (Mt. 6:33). And in this place of utter commitment to God's purpose for them, they were to always be ready to give a defense of the hope that was within them.

Lately I have been giving quite a lot of thought about our being ready to give an answer. You and me here and now. Would we be able to do that? Are we prepared to explain to someone what our hope is, at a moment's notice? Of course we understand that the hope we have has to do with things beyond our free gift of eternal life; our hope has to do with our participation in the Coming Kingdom of Christ as a co-heir and co-ruler, having been found faithful at the JSOC. This is our hope, the very thing we are to be ready to give a defense for.

There's a reason that God has each of us in a unique set of circumstances in our individual lives: We are all in different seasons of life. Different places of work. Different people with whom to interact. For example, when you leave here this morning, where will you go? What will you do? Tomorrow morning when you wake up and go about your day, what will it be like? Who will you talk to? What will you talk about? Who are the people that God has placed in your life?

We might want to pause this morning and wonder if God specifically has someone in our lives who needs to know of the hope that is set before them. Would we know what to say? Would we be ready with an answer to explain the hope that is in us ó a hope that could be in them as well, if someone would but tell them?

On several occasions lately it has come to my mind just how generous God has been with us here at Cornerstone. He has generously answered this prayer on our behalf: Ephesians 1:17 that the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, may give to [us] the spirit of wisdom and revelation in the knowledge of Him, 18 the eyes of [our] understanding being enlightened; that [we] may know what is the hope of His calling, what are the riches of the glory of His inheritance in the saints, 19 and what is the exceeding greatness of His power toward us who believe... God has generously enlightened us; generously granted us understanding so that we can successfully face the trials of our everyday lives, no matter what season of life we might be in, or what might come our way.

Yes, we are to sanctify Jesus as Lord in our hearts ó He is our Master to Whom we will one day give an account. And in sanctifying Him as Lord in our hearts, we have learned of the high and heavenly calling upon our lives wherein we are to walk in a manner worthy. We patiently endure because of that hope set before us. And while you and I may not face the blatant persecution that the early church faced at the beginning of the dispensation, still this verse is one we would want to consider here at the end of the dispensation. This message of hope has been all but snuffed-out within the Church, due to the leaven placed within. And hasn't that leaven done its work over the past 2,000 years? So much so that most Christians do not have a clue as to what the hope is that is set before them. The Apostle Peter said this at the beginning of this dispensation, and we are to hear it at the end ó that we are to always be ready to give a defense to everyone who asks the reason for the hope that is in us. And so because you and I need to be ready to do this, I would like to break this verse down for us a bit, so that we might be able to grasp the meaning of it more clearly today. We are to ...

ALWAYS BE READY

Always means always. We are to be in a state of constant preparedness to tell someone about our hope. Always being ready would have necessitated our having sanctified Jesus as Lord in our hearts, and all that comes with that. It would look like this ó the Coming Kingdom would be:

- The most important thing to us.
- The thing that we think about most of the time.
- The thing that we study.
- The thing that we focus on.
- The thing that we most frequently talk to others about.

And if that be the case, then we would have a good grasp as to what the hope is. And in that, we would only have to get prepared to share it with others!

Being ready means being prepared. The Greek word used for ready is the same word used to describe the readiness/preparedness of the five wise virgins as they await the return of the Bridegroom. The parable of the Ten Virgins compares Christians who are ready for the return of Christ with Christians who are not ready for His return, along with the respective outcome for either group. The parable is used to reveal the means by which readiness is exemplified. Jesus said: Matthew 25:1 “Then the kingdom of heaven shall be likened to ten virgins who took their lamps and went out to meet the bridegroom. Herein is the subject matter of the parable óthe kingdom of the heavens (i.e., the Coming Age, in which Christ and His Bride will rule from the heavenly city over the whole earth, thus fulfilling God’s created purpose for man), with the parable revealing the complete Church (ten virgins) waiting for the Bridegroom (Who is Jesus, the very one teaching this parable). Jesus goes on to explain: 2 Now five of them were wise, and five were foolish. 3 Those who were foolish took their lamps and took no oil with them, 4 but the wise took oil in their vessels with their lamps. Oil in their lamps pictures the filling of the Holy Spirit in the lives of Christians. At one’s spiritual birth, the Holy Spirit comes to indwell the new believer, reflected in each virgin possessing a lamp. But the continual filling of the Holy Spirit (the oil in one’s lamp) is only gotten through a personal, continual and proper engagement with and study of the Word of God.

By God’s grace, all ten virgins had continual access to the filling of their lamps with the oil through the availability of the Holy Spirit through the Word, but it is only the wise virgins who keep their lamps full, as they await the return of their Bridegroom, and therefore it is only the wise virgins who are ready when He returns. Once the cry goes out (i.e., the trumpet sounds for the resurrection/rapture of the Church), it will too late for the foolish virgins: 6 “And at midnight a cry was heard: ‘Behold, the bridegroom is coming; go out to meet him!’ 7 Then all those virgins arose and trimmed their lamps. 8 And the foolish said to the wise, ‘Give us some of your oil, for our lamps are going out.’ 9 But the wise answered, saying, ‘No, lest there should not be enough for us and you; but go rather to those who sell, and buy for yourselves.’ 10 And while they [the five foolish virgins] went to buy [to ðbuyøthe oil], the bridegroom came, and those who were ready went in with him to the wedding; and the door was shut...

There is a marked difference between the wise and the foolish virgins. The marked difference is readiness. And with that marked difference, there was also a marked difference in the resulting consequence of that readiness. And this consequential difference is one of astronomical import óthe door was shut. Those who were ready went into the wedding festivities; those who were not ready were shut out of the wedding festivities.

May I ask us to consider this on a personal level? If the trumpet sounded today, even this very moment, how ready would we be? Would we have oil in our lamps right now, or would we be needing to go ðbuyø some? Will the door be opened or shut to us? Please think about that for a moment, which would it be?

In another place Jesus spoke of a door being shut. He said: Luke 13: 24 “Strive to enter through the narrow gate, for many, I say to you, will seek to enter and will not be able. 25 When once the Master of the house has risen up and shut the door, and you begin to stand outside and knock at the door, saying, ‘Lord, Lord, open for us,’ and He will answer and say to you, ‘I do not know you, where you are from,’ 26 then you will begin to say, ‘We ate and drank in Your presence, and You taught in our streets.’ 27 But He will say, ‘I tell you I do not know you, where you are from. Depart from Me, all you workers of iniquity.’ 28

There will be weeping and gnashing of teeth, when you see Abraham and Isaac and Jacob and all the prophets in the kingdom of God, and yourselves thrust out. 29 They will come from the east and the west, from the north and the south, and sit down in the kingdom of God. 30 And indeed there are last who will be first, and there are first who will be last.”

Of course, Jesus was speaking to the Jews on the streets of Jerusalem when He said these things, but application can be made to the Church, as it is now the Church being offered positions within the Coming Kingdom. And one of the obvious things in both of these passages is that there will be an end to the time-period wherein we can ready ourselves for our entrance into the kingdom. There will come a time when the door will be shut and there will be nothing else that anyone can do in their preparations. The time for preparations will have passed. And the door will be shut.

So, just as we are to be ready for the Bridegroom to return, we are also to be ready to give a reason for our hope. And isn't it a given that it is the oil in one's lamp (via a personal and continual and proper engagement with God's Word) that not only allows one to become a wise virgin, but is also the very thing that would allow one to be ready to give a defense? Again, implicit in all of this would be the idea of being in a continual state of preparedness, referring back to the phrase always be ready. For, just as we do not know when the Bridegroom will return, we also do not know when the Lord will call upon us to give a defense of our hope to someone whose heart He has prepared. And ó for obvious reasons ó it would be very sad to not be ready; it would be very sad to miss the opportunity ó both for the person being asked as well as for the person doing the asking.

Let's think about it for a minute: We have all been in the place ó at a time past ó wherein God had prepared our heart to receive the gospel of the glory of Christ, we just needed someone to explain it to us. Imagine where we would be now if that person had not been prepared to explain it, and therefore didn't. Where would we be? Thankfully, God is faithful! And here we sit!

And now how long have we been sitting here? How much have we grown in our knowledge and understanding of the things of God? We have grown from partaking only of the pure milk of the word to a place wherein we can handle the solid meat of the word. Don't you think so? And therefore, could it be said of us that by this time we should have become teachers, not needing to be taught over again the first principles of the oracles of God? Surely by this time we have become skilled in the word of righteousness, so that by reason of use (of the word of righteousness) we have had our senses trained to discern both good and evil ó meaning we can easily discern what God wants of us in this present age in view to the Coming Age, as we have been generously taught His Word. And with this knowledge we are accountable! We are accountable to live out what we know; and at some point in our growth, we are accountable to tell others. God has not brought us to this point in our understanding of His Word for us to become isolated! And so Peter is telling us that we must always be ready to give!

A DEFENSE to Everyone Who Asks

We live at a time in the dispensation of the Church where the greater preponderance of the Church is lukewarm, and they don't even want to hear the message of hope, which happens to be the central message in all four gospels, in the Book of Acts, in all the epistles, with the Book of the Revelation culminating our hope. (Isn't it true?) The heaven has done its work. We have all experienced some level of rejection as a result of our continuing on in this message. And rejection hurts! The problem with rejection is that it may cause us to want to pull into a shell and not tell anyone of our hope, much less everyone. It would be easy to become complacent here, and let someone else give their defense! But again, where would we be if

And so, honestly, we need to prepare ourselves! God may, at any time, bring someone into our life, whose heart He has prepared to receive this message ó the same as He did for us so many years ago. And this preparation needs to be intentional, it's not something that is just going to happen one day. Preparation means that we take time to prepare. By the very nature of the word, it is intentional, isn't it? Being ready to give a defense will take systematic planning and preparation. So what would it take for us to prepare? It may take a time of sitting down and writing out what our hope is in your own words . It may take some memorization of specific verses, or at least memorizing the references to specific verses, so that we could lead someone there.

I think of John and Ann's and Jake and Shelby's testimonies of what is going on in Spokane right now. It was so sweet and so encouraging to hear Jake speak last week of the effect that the Spokane conference had on him, as the four of them along with Rodd saw what God is doing out there. The Spokane group has been steadfastly growing in the Word, finding great encouragement as they defend their hope to others, even now. Yes, we live at a time when the Church-at-large doesn't want to hear the message of the kingdom, but are we not told to hold fast our confidence and the boast of our hope firm until the end (Heb. 3:6)? That word confidence is made up of a compound word that means we are to be outspoken, to be blunt, to be bold in our boast, which is our rejoicing. We have the best news anyone could ever hope to hear in their entire lifetime! Why would we want to be quiet about it?

In Paul's day, a similar situation existed within the ranks of Judaism that exists in the Church-at-large today. Look at how he described the situation in: Romans 10:1 Brethren, my heart's desire and prayer to God for Israel is that they may be saved. [Of course, Paul is referring to the salvation of the soul here, as the greater preponderance of Israel had been eternally saved prior to Christ's death on the cross, through faith in God's provision of Passover.] 2 For I bear them witness that they have a zeal for God, but not according to knowledge. 3 For they being ignorant of God's righteousness, and seeking to establish their own righteousness, have not submitted to the righteousness of God. Interestingly, it was to this same group of people that Jesus preached the kingdom of the heavens, and to whom He sent out His twelve with the same message. We know that this message of hope is to be given to eternally saved people, this so great salvation. And so Paul's heart's desire was that Israel would receive the salvation of their souls. But the greater majority of Israel disdained the message, just like the majority of the Church today disdains the same message.

Just prior to writing this, Paul had expressed his passionate desire for Jews to believe the message in this way ó Romans 9:1 I tell the truth in Christ, I am not lying, my conscience also bearing me witness in the Holy Spirit, 2 that I have great sorrow and continual grief in my heart. 3 For I could wish that I myself were accursed from Christ for my brethren, my countrymen according to the flesh, 4 who are Israelites, to whom pertain the adoption, the glory, the covenants, the giving of the law, the service of God, and the promises; 5 of whom are the fathers and from whom, according to the flesh, Christ came, who is over all, the eternally blessed God. Amen. Paul wished himself ðaccursed from Christö if only his brethren ó the Jews ó would believe the message about Christ and His kingdom. He then went on to write that the prophets had foretold that the offer would be made not only to Israel, but at their rejection (Hum! Interesting word! You mean Paul was rejected too?), the offer would then be made also to the Gentiles. Paul was the one sent by God to the Gentiles with this message. But during the first 30+ years of the Church, his mode of ministry would be going to the Jew first, and then to the Gentiles. And even though he knew that the majority of the Jews would not listen; he went to them first anyway. The motivating force in doing so was the ðgreat sorrow and continual grief in his heartö towards his own countrymen. I wonder if we should ask the Lord for that same zeal for people we know in the Church-at-large, who do not understand the hope that is on offer to them.

Then if we would consider the Parable of the Sower and the Seed in Matthew chapter thirteen, we would see that the sower broadcast the seed (i.e., the Word of the kingdom [Mt. 13:18,19]) to large areas wherein he knew the seed would not grow into a place of producing fruit. Yet, he broadcast it anyway. And in broadcasting the seed in such a fashion, a small portion of seed did fall upon ground that allowed fruit bearing, even if growing up next to the tares. And that is the way it is and the way it has been throughout this entire dispensation. The seed ó the Word of the kingdom ó needs to be continually broadcast, even though there will not be much fruit born here ó at the end ó due to the working of the leaven, but there will be some! (And ó praise the Lord ó we are part of that ðsomeö!) Blessed are those who cast the seed, and those who bear the fruit thereof. Our feet are to be shod with the preparation of the gospel of peace (Eph. 6:15). This seems to imply the same thing that our opening verse in I Peter states. It is the preparation of the gospel of peace in which we are to walk. And just as there are two facets of the gospel ó the Gospel of the Grace of God (to be given to the unsaved) and the Gospel of the Glory of Christ (to be given to the saved), we have two feet which we are to shod with the gospel of peace. We need to be ready in an instant to give either facet of the Gospel as the Holy Spirit would lead as we walk about our world on a daily basis.

In all of this, Paul recognized that we would all play different roles in this process: I Cor. 3:5 Who then is Paul, and who is Apollos, but ministers through whom you believed, as the Lord gave to each one? 6 I planted, Apollos watered, but God gave the increase. 7 So then neither he who plants is anything, nor he who waters, but God who gives the increase. 8 Now he who plants and he who waters are one, and each one will receive his own reward according to his own labor. 9 For we are God's fellow workers; you are God's field, you are God's building. 10 According to the grace of God which was given to me, as a wise master builder I have laid the foundation, and another builds on it. But let each one take heed how he builds on it.

But before Paul could be sent out to lay the foundation, he had to be taught! And so he was! Galatians 1:11 But I make known to you, brethren, that the gospel which was preached by me is not according to man. 12 For I neither received it from man, nor was I taught it, but it came through the revelation of Jesus Christ... .. 18 Then after three years I went up to Jerusalem to see Peter, and remained with him fifteen days. Jesus Himself taught Paul for a period of time prior to His sending him out. And of course that would be necessary. In a real sense, Jesus has taught us, as well. Hasn't He? Here we have sat week after week for how many months? How many years? God has been very generous with His teaching. We have each grown in our own personal understanding of God's Word! But it would be silly to think that it is all for our own personal growth and that that is where it stops! Again: For though by this time you ought to be teachers... (Heb 5:12). This is not to say that every one of us needs to get up at a pulpit and teach large groups of people! That is not what is being said this morning. John, Ann, Jake, Shelby and Rodd all five went out to Spokane. John was the main teacher, but were not Ann, Jake, Shelby and Rodd teachers as well. And (if I can make this assumption) their lives were changed as a result of their willingness and preparedness to go. The good thing is that we don't have to go to Spokane to plant or water the seed! This can (and should) be done as we walk through our everyday life.

Let's use Paul as an example: Paul found a young Jewish man, whom he recognized as having genuine faith. It was Timothy. And while Timothy eventually became Paul's son in the faith so to speak, it was not Paul whom God used to plant the seed in Timothy; for the seed had already been planted in this young man long before Paul met him. Paul was used by God to water that which was previously sown in Timothy. Interestingly, Scriptures do tell us who it was who planted the seed in Timothy's heart concerning the word of the kingdom. The genuine faith that was found to be in Timothy was first in his grandmother, and then in his mother, and then was found to be in him as well.

(That's why I originally asked about your day when you leave here: Who will you talk to? What will you talk about? Etc.. Here is proof positive that we don't have to look very far to find someone into whom we can plant the seed of the Sower no matter what season in life you find yourself. To your children? Your grandchildren? Your extended family? Your co-worker? Your neighbor?

And then note just how important this is from God's perspective? This was so important to God that He even immortalized Timothy's grandmother and mother's names in Lois and Eunice in within the pages of God's immortal Word. And here we are today knowing their names 2,000 years after the fact. These are not just names on a page; these are the names of Timothy's grandmother and mother!

So here is one into whom Paul poured the water of the word, though there were many others. Paul taught Timothy as to the hope that was in him: II Timothy 1:13 Hold fast the pattern of sound words which you have heard from me, in faith and love which are in Christ Jesus. 14 That good thing which was committed to you, keep by the Holy Spirit who dwells in us. (Hold fast the pattern of sound words which you have heard from me! Keep the good thing which was committed to you! In other words, keep your lamp filled with oil, Timothy!) But Paul did not stop there. This was not just to be for Timothy's benefit, but for others as well! We see in a passage just a few verses down, that Paul commanded Timothy to teach others, who would then teach still others. 2:2 And the things that you have heard from me among many witnesses, commit these to faithful men who will be able to teach others also. This is the true picture of discipleship ó commit teaching to faithful men (men full of faith) who would be able to teach others! And wouldn't this be the very means of spreading the Word of the kingdom throughout the dispensation? And here we are nearly 2,000 years later, and because of this very process, we have been faithfully taught! But this passage shows us that we have been taught so that we can teach others! (It's too bad that we don't have access to a heavenly Ancestry.com wherein we could look to see whose spiritual lineage we are in, all the way back to the beginning of the dispensation. I wonder if any of our lineages would take us back up to Timothy, to Lois to Eunice.

So what are we to do? We are to always be ready to give a defense...

To Everyone Who Asks YOU A REASON

Thus far we have seen that we are to always be ready, and now we see that we are to do this with everyone who asks. Everyone means everyone. It is the Greek word pas, which is contextually an all-inclusive word. It means any and all who would ask. That's simple enough ó we are to always be ready to give a defense to everyone who asks... The Greek word used for the word asks is an interesting one, as there are several Greek words which could have been chosen. Peter could have used a word that would imply someone asking merely as a matter of collecting information; or another word which would have shown a person asking for a favor; or another word which would imply asking in the way of searching for something hidden; and still another which would involve the idea of asking with an urgent need. But the word that the Holy Spirit specifically chose for Peter to use was a word that is a demand for something due. It implies the person asking, begging, craving, requiring that which is due him. And why would it be due him? It is because God has prepared their heart, and now they need someone to tell him.

And this would beg the question: Why would a person ask or require or beg or crave from us a reason for something? Wouldn't it/shouldn't it be because they have heard us often speak of the very thing for which we hope? This is why our hope needs to be something we talk often about to our family and friends. Hope implies that there is something that we anticipate with great pleasure; something that we confidently expect. We are assured of it; we don't waiver about it; we are excited about it; it is the focus of our heart! And we know that that which proceeds out of the mouth comes forth from the heart. So, what do we talk about? What do others hear from our heart? Do we talk about the hope enough that someone might ask? Shouldn't we all be doing this? In other words, unless we are in the habit of talking about the hope that is in us in some fashion or another, who would ever know to ask us about it?

Then we are to give a reason for the thing that we are so excitedly confident of. The word for reason used here means that we would be able to lay out in a systematic way the basis for our hope. But some of us may not feel that we are ready. We really are ready by now! Look what Paul said in Romans 10:6 But the righteousness of faith speaks in this way... 8b... "The word is near you, in your mouth and in your heart" (that is, the word of faith which we preach): 9 that if you confess with your mouth the Lord Jesus and believe in your heart that God has raised Him from the dead, you will be saved. 10 For with the heart one believes unto righteousness, and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation. 11 For the Scripture says, "Whoever believes on Him will not be put to shame." 12 For there is no distinction between Jew and Greek, for the same Lord over all is rich to all who call upon Him. 13 For "whoever calls on the name of the LORD shall be saved." But then Paul asks this question: 14 How then shall they call on Him in whom they have not believed? And how shall they believe in Him of whom they have not heard? And how shall they hear without a preacher? 15 And how shall they preach unless they are sent? As it is written: "How beautiful are the feet of those who preach the gospel of peace, Who bring glad tidings of good things!" Again here we see the feet shod with the gospel of peace. How beautiful are those feet!

The word is near us, in our mouths and in our hearts. Do you believe that? It is what the Word of God says. So, do you believe it? So speak the word! We ó of all people ó should be the most free to speak this word, because God has been so generous! We should be speaking it to one another very freely here within the four walls of our Church; and we should be speaking it to others outside these four walls as the Holy Spirit would lead. This needs to be our habit! People need to know this is what we are about! Our children need to hear it; our family needs to hear it; our friends need to hear it; our co-workers need to hear it. We need to get in the habit of talking about it. And good habits most generally have to begin intentionally!

Paul encouraged and instructed Timothy in this way: II Timothy 3:14 But you must continue in the things which you have learned and been assured of, knowing from whom you have learned them, 15 and that from childhood you have known the Holy Scriptures, which are able to make you wise for salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus. 16 All Scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine [Lit., teaching], for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness, 17 that the man of God may be complete, thoroughly equipped for every good work. We are all very familiar with this passage. We have learned that the reason for the need to continue in these things is so that we will be equipped for every good work! But there is an unfortunate chapter break here, which may render us unfamiliar with the "therefore" that follows in the very next verse: 4:1 I charge you therefore before God and the Lord Jesus Christ, who will judge the living and the dead at His appearing and His kingdom: 2 Preach the word! Be ready in season and out of season. Convince, rebuke, exhort, with all longsuffering and teaching. Paul told Timothy he must continue in the things that he had been taught, as these things have made him wise to salvation. (Perhaps we can see vestiges of being a wise virgin here.) And we can know that Paul is speaking of the salvation of the soul, since the idea leads to the man of God being thoroughly equipped for every good work. And then, as Paul says, because Jesus Christ will judge, and because of His appearing and kingdom, Paul told Timothy to preach the word! That word preach means that he was to be a public herald. And contextually, the word that he was to preach was the word concerning Jesus' appearing and kingdom.

Timothy was to be ready! He was to be ready to do this in season and out of season. This phrase literally means he was to be ready to preach the word when he had opportunity to, and when he did not have opportunity! still he was to be ready.

We know that the Church-at-large does not know what the hope is. But we do! We know that the hope is not the salvation which we presently possess which is by grace through faith in death of Jesus! Hope (by the very meaning of the word) is something that we look forward to, something that we are confidently expectant of; something that we do not yet possess, otherwise it would not be seen as hope, because it would be something that we would have attained. You and I know that this hope is still before us; we have not yet attained it, it is still yet future. This hope is the anchor to our souls! It is because of this hope that is the reason we patiently endure the trials and tribulations we face day in and day out; it is that toward which we strive with every ounce of our being. This hope is the thing that motivates us to love and good deeds, because we know there is coming a Day when our hope will be realized. II Timothy 4: 3 For the time will come when they will not endure sound doctrine, but according to their own desires, because they have itching ears, they will heap up for themselves teachers; 4 and they will turn their ears away from the truth, and be turned aside to fables. 5 But you be watchful in all things, endure afflictions, do the work of an evangelist, fulfill your ministry.

Yes, Timothy's mother and grandmother's names have been immortalized within The Book of Scripture, Lois and Eunice. But you know, we still have a chance to have our names immortalized within another book. A heavenly one. Books of Remembrances are still be written in heaven even now. These books will be opened up and read yet future. Wouldn't you want your name to be written now, so that it could be read then? Written because ó just like Lois and Eunice, who had genuine faith, and who passed that faith on to Timothy ó you imparted your genuine faith to another, and perhaps another and then another. To your children, to your grandchildren, to your neighbor, your co-worker, your brother! We must always be ready! So may I encourage you today, get ready! Be prepared.
